THE NINETEENTH DAY.

The General Episcopal Convention Still in Session at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 24.—The nineteenth day's session of the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church was opened today with morning prayer by Rev. William S. Langford, D. D., of New Jersey, and Rev. Daniel C. Roberts, of New Hampshire, The benediction was pronounced by the Right Rev. Bishop Harris, of Michigan. The house of deputies was called to order by the president, Rev. Dr. Beardsley.

Rev. Dr. Hills, of New Jersey, from the committee on the state of the church, to whom was referred a preamble and resolution of Mr. James H. Fisher, a lay deputy of the diocese of western New York, containing common rumor that certain ministers of this church have, during long periods of time past, introduced during the celebration of the holy communication of the control of the control of the celebration of the holy communication are controlled in the munion ceremonies not authorized in the book of common prayer and symbolizing er-roneous or doubtful doctrines, reported that they have given the same the most careful consideration, and have reached the unani-mous conclusion that this subject is beyond the competency of this committee, and fur-ther that it is amply provided for by canon 22, title 1, entitled "of the use of the book of common prayer," to which they earnestly call the attention of the church. The committee's request to be discharged from further considrequest to be discharged from further consideration of the subject was granted.

The committee on the state of the church presented a final report through Rev. Dr. Hills. It began by referring to the establishment in this country of the American branch of the Anglican church, and stated that there are at present in the Protestant Episcopal church of the United States 48 dioceses, 15 missionary jurisdictions, 67 bishops, 2,500 other clergy, 3,000 communicants. Since the last meeting of the convention four bishops have died, viz: The Right Rev. Bishop Atkinson, of North Carolina; the Right Rev. Bishop Kerfoot, of Pittsburg; the Right Rev. Bishop Pinckney, of Maryland. Two foreign Bishop Pinckney, of Maryland. Two foreign missionary bishops have resigned their juris-diction, vtz: The Right Rev. Bishop Penick, of Cape Palmas, and the Right Rev. Bishop Schereschewsky, of China. Eight clergy have been elevated to the episcopate.

The report referred to the inadequate number of candidates for holy orders, and called special attention to the work of the called special attention to the work of the church temperance society. Church music, it says, has made progress. The enriched book of common prayer is hailed with delight. The report concluded with a resolution that the view of the state of the church there presented be transmitted to the house of bishops, with the request that they prepare a pastoral letter for publication. The resolution was adopted.

The committee on expenses presented

The committee on expenses presented resolutions that in future each diocese should provide for the expenses of its bishops and clerical deputies attending the convention, and also that no portion of the personal expenses should be borne by the parishes or people of the city in which the sessions are held.

Bey Dr. Adams of Wisson sin moved as Rev. Dr. Adams, of Wiscon sin, moved as an ameudment, that the church of any city in which the general convention meets be requested to provide hospitality for one bishop and one clergyman from each diocese, and no

Rev. Dr. Knight, of central Pennsylvania. from the committee, said it was possible for the committee to recommend that the assessment should be two or three times the present assessment on the dioceses. The larger dio-ceses would have no difficulty in raising the money, but the smaller ones think they have ore serious use for the money. ev. Dr. Locke, of Illinois, said that no doubt it seemed ungracious to many of the deputies that Chicago did not offer to take the convention, but they wished to save all the money possible for the celebration of their semicentennial year after next.

Rev. Dr. McVickar, of Ponnsylvania, said it was a fact, whather or not it was desired.

it was a fact, whether or not it was desired to be proclaimed abroad, that the convention was begging for a place of meeting. It seemed to him like taxation without repre-sentation when the church is called on to sentation when the church is called on to pay for the entertainment of the deputies. It would be a grand thing for the convention to go where the church is weak instead of strong. Ten cents apiece would raise $35,000, and that did not seem to be a very heavy vention be met by an assessment on each diocese proportionate to the number of communicants in each diocese.

Municants in each diocese.

Mr. Nelson, of Alabama, said the true way no meet the question was to be independent.

Rev. Dr. Adams said it was a question of hospitality, and not a question of expenses.

Rev. Dr. Goodwin, of Pennsylvania, advo cated the resolution in the report of the committee on expenses. The matter of a general mittee on expenses. The matter of a general assessment was a different thing.

Mr. Wilmer, of Maryland, was satisfied that if the stronger dioceses were appealed to they would cheerfully consent to contribute to the expenses of their deputies. He hoped the convention would take the ground that the convention would take the ground that the dioceses ought to pay the expenses of their bishops and deputies, and those who cannot afford to pay will be sided.

A vote was taken which resulted in the rejection of the substitute of Rev. Dr. Mc-Vickar and the amendments of Rev. Dr. Perkins and Rev. Dr. A dams. kins and Rev. Dr. Adams.

A GRAND ARMY CAMP FIRE. Pleasant Entertainment of Kit Carson

Post at Grand Army Hall. Kit Carson post No. 2, G. A. R., held a camp fire at Grand Army hall, corner of Ninth and D streets, last night. About 200 were present, among whom were many prominent people. The exercises included singing, recitations, and speaking. In the center of the floor was a pile of faggots, above which was suspended a suggestive looking iron bucket marked "beans." On one side hung a canteen, rusty and soiled, while on the other side was suspended a dilapidated khapsack, whose ragged and torn edges gave evidence of hard service. A stack of arms surmounted by a drum and a pitt toy cannon stood on either side of the faggots. From convenient niches in the wall were hung small flags, lending to the scene a sort of holiday appearance. In one corner of the room was a table freighted with bread, hardtack, cheese, and tinceps, which a man in his shirt sleeves handed around at in-tervals, the latter filled with strong and flagrant coffee. The festivities lasted until a late hour. Carson post was organized in 1568 in the old capitol prison, having at that time in the old capitol prison, having at that time but seven members, and its muster roll to-day contains the names of four hundred promi-nent citizens. DEATH OF AN OCTOGENARIAN.

Brief Sketch of the Life of Dr. Leonard D. Gale-His Scientific Attainments and

Dr. Leonard D. Gale, an old and respected citizen of Washington, well known for his scientific attainments, died at his residencein this city on the twenty-second instant. Dr. Gale was born at Sutton, now Millbury, Mass., July 25, 1800. He was educated at Brown university and Union college, graduating from the latter in 1825. He received the degree of M. D. from the College of Physicians and Surgeons in New York in Physicians and Surgeons in New York in 1830, and in 1832 was resident physician in one of the cholera hospitals during the preva-lence of the epidemic in that city.

Dr. Gale's natural bent was toward scien-tific pursuits, and before graduating in medi-cine he delivered lectures on natural sciences.

After endoution he was employed for twelve

After graduation he was employed for twolve years as professor of chemistry in various institutions, among them the university of the city of New York, of which Prof. S. F. B. Morse was at that time professor of art and literature. Prof. Morse was then experimenting with the telegraph, but found himself at a standstill by reason of his inability to send a message more than a few feet. In this dilemma he applied to his fellow professor. Dr. Gale, the first person save his own After graduation he was employed for twelve fessor, Dr. Gale, the first person save his own brothers to whom he had shown the new machine. The discoveries of Prof. Henry in electricity were unknown to Morse, though familiar to Dr. Gale, who had already applied them to his own electrical apparatus. To this apparatus he attached Morse's machine by some 400 feet of wire. The message rushed with full force through the whole extent of the wire, and the electric telegraph became an assured success.

In 1833, Dr. Gale made a geological survey of the island of New York, and in 1837 published a chemistry for schools, which was well received. In 1843 he assisted Prof. Morse in laying the wires for the first electric tele-graph between Washington and Baltimore. In 1846 he was appointed an examiner in the patent office and removed to this city, where he has since resided. He was made a princi-pal examiner in 1848, having charge of the department of chemistry. This position he held till 1857, when he was removed from office by President Buchanan on account of office by Fresident Buchaman on account of his pronounced republicanism. He was afterward, for many years, engaged in the practice of patent law in this city. He was for a long time one of the trustees of the Columbia university of this city. A quiet, unassuming man, of great information and industry genial manners and noble Christian industry, genial manners, and noble Christian character, his death will be regretted by a large circle of friends.

His funeral took place yesterday afternoon Alls funeral took place yesterday atternoon at 2 o'clock from the Congregational church, and was largely attended. Rev. Dr. Rankin officiated. The pallbearers were Messrs. N. B. Bartlett, S. Gilpin, A. D. Burr, Dr. D. S. Lamb, Dr. Thomas Antisell, and Dr. W. M. Mew. The interment was at Congressional constant. cemetery.

The House of the Good Shepherd

The House of the Good Shepherd on Ninth street, between Massachusetts avenue and L streets northwest, has recently been enlarged, and is now ready to receive work of every kind from the finest and most elaborate needle work to plain laundering. Baltimore clothing manufacturers have sent several large orders which have been satisfactorily met. There are accommodations for about fifty inmates, and several have been received. No difference is made as to religion, Protestant girls wanting to reform being received as cordially as Catholics. The work of refor-mation consists in moral instruction aided by industry, which last is considered one of the chief elements in the course of discipline. The community is divided in three classes: First, the Sisters of the Good Shepherd; second, the Magdalens who have been reformed and wish to remain in house devoting themselves to its work; and third, those who wish to reform and leave after that good work has been accomplished. There is a class also for the preservation of children who, though not the preservation of children who, though not the complex of the preservation of children who, though not the complex of the complex o taxation.

Rev. Dr. Perkins, of Kentucky, moved as amendment that annual collection be made in the different parishes, and that the amount be deposited with the treasurer of the house of deputies for distribution in proportion to their expenses among the bishops and clerical members.

The Nurses' Kindergarten.

At the Nurses' Kindergarten Training school, in St. George's hall yesterday, Mrs. Pollock delivered a very interesting lecture on the subject of "How to secure obedience from children," which was listened to with the greatest attention by many mothers and teachers. The lessons, as well as the hygienic and educational rules, which are given with each lecture, are not only based upon Frove-bel's kindergarten principles, but also upon all the highest educational authorities on child training, and have been tested by actual ex-perience. These lectures are given every Wednesday at 3 o'clock, and mothers, who cannot attend in person, should not fail to send their nurses, for any light in our nurse-ries should be heartily welcomed.

A BUSINESS PROTEST.

The Solid Men of New Orleans Ask a Hearing-The President Requested to Examine Postmaster General Gresham's Order Against the New Orleans National Bank and Revoke It.

Messrs, Horner & Grant, of New Orleans; Col. Charles W. Moulton, of New York, and Attorney Jeff Chandler, of this city, representing the 200 or more business men and firms of New Orleans whose names are signed to the petition, called on the President yesterday morning to present the following protest against the postmaster general's order excluding the New Orleans National bank from the use of the moneyed mails of the United States:

NEW ORLEANS, LA., Sept. 25.—To THE PRESIDENT: The undersigned have learned with alarm the recent decision of Postmaster General Gresham attempting to interfere with the correspondence of a national bank of New Orleans, La., upon the pretense that a part of such correspondence relates to a lottery. The pretense of authority for this in-terference is claimed to exist by virtue of the terms of sections 3029 and 4041 of the Revised Statutes of the United States. Those sections are as follows, respectively:

Statutes of the United States. Those sections are as follows, respectively:

See, 2929. "The postmaster general may, upon evidence satisfactory to him that any person is engaged in conducting any fraudulent lottery, gine enterprise, or scheme for the distribution of money, or of any real or personal property by lot, chance, or drawing of any kind, or in conducting any other scheme or device for obtaining money through the mails by means of false or fraudulent pretenses, representations, or promises, instruct postmasters at any postoffice at which registered letters arrive, directed to any such person, to return all such registered letters to the postmasters at the offices at which they were originally mailed, with the word 'fraudulent' pishing written or stamped upon the cutistic of such interes, and all such letters so returned to auch postmasters shall be by them returned to the writers thereof, under such regulations as the postmaster general may prescribe. But nothing contained in this title shall be so construed as to authorize any postmaster or other person to open any letter not addressed to himself."

See, 4011. The postmaster general may, upon evidence satisfactory to him, that any person is engaged in conducting any fraudulent lottery, giff enterprise, or scheme for the distribution of money or of any real or personal property by lot, chance or drawing of any kind, or in conducting any other scheme or device for obtaining money through the mails by means of false or fraudulent pretenses, representations, or promises, forbid the payment by any postmaster to any such person of any postmaster to any such person to open any letter not addressed to him favor, and may postmaster to any such person to open any letter not addressed to him server, and may provide by regulations for the return, to the remitter, of the sums named in such money orders. But this shall not authorize any person to open any letter not addressed to himself."

The order of the postmaster general complained of is in the following terms:

The order of the postmaster general complained of is in the following terms:

Postoffice Department. Washington, D. C., Sept. 19, 1883.—Washington B. Merchant, Postmaster, New Orleans, La.—Sir. Since you were instructed toldeliver no registered letters reaching your office addressed to M. A. Dauphin, and to redeem no money orders payable to him, he has directed in an advertisement inserted in certain newspapers that all registered letters intended for him, and concerning the Louisana State Lottery company, be addressed to the New Orleans National bank at New Orleans, and that all money orders sent to your office for his benefit and concerning the business of said lottery company be made payable to said bank. I am in possession of trustworthy information that this bank has been, and still is, receiving through your office registered letters and money orders for the boundt of M. A. Dauphin in pursuance of his published directions. This is a defiant scheme on the part of M. A. Dauphin and the New Orleans National bank, to evade the orders which have been addressed to you by the postmaster general in pursuance of the statutes of the United States, intended to protect the mails and the public against a business which is victious and immoral, and which, in the main, preys upon ignorant and credulous.

This bank caunot be permitted to stand in the shoes of M. A. Dauphin and thus enable him to accomplish by indirection what he is not allowed to do directly. Hereafter, therefore, you will deliver to the New Orleans National bank no registered letters and redeem no money orders payable to it, but deal with it the same as directed by the order of the department of Nov. 13, 1879. This order will be revoked whenever the bank gives satisfactory evidence that it has abandoned the above scheme. Very respectfully,

W. Q. Gresham, Postmaster General.

The undersigned further respectfully submit that Postmaster General Gresham has no

The undersigned further respectfully submit that Postmaster General Gresham has no lawful authority for his proceeding to issue the foregoing order, and that his attempts to do so violate fundamental guarantees of the constitution of the United States, which provides that all persons shall be safe from unreasonable search, &c.:

Article 4. Amendments to the constitution of the United States—"The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures shall not be violated, and no warrants shall issue but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched and the persons or things to be seized."

They also respectfully represent that corre spondence entrusted to the mails should be held as inviolate and safe from inspection as if in the owner's possession, and that the com-mercial transactions of the country demand that the officers of the postoffice department should treat the correspondence intrusted to them as trustees, and that upon no considera-tion whatever should it be interfered with or diverted from its originial destination. Your diverted from its original destination. Your petitioners are aware that a controversy is now pending in the courts between an officer of the Louisiana Lottery company and the postmaster general, as to the right of the former to have his registered mail delivered. Your petitioners assert, however, that they have petitioners assert, however, that they have no special interest in said controversy, and are not informed as to its merits, and have no wish to influence your judgment in relation thereto; but they do insist that when a legitimate business is attacked by an officer of so high rank as the postmaster general there is just cause for alarm; for, if he can attack the business of a national bank without a hearing or trial, he can attack any other business in the same manner. If he can destroy the business of a bank because he cousiders some part of it vicious and imconsiders some part of it vicious and immoral, he can in the same manuer and by similar means destroy any business that happens to be offensive to him.

This vast and dangerous power should not be committed to the hands of any official, and we submit that, under our laws, it is not some we submit that, under our laws, it is not so mmitted. If the bank referred to has usurped any franchise not granted to it by its charter, or has in any way violated the law of its exist-ence, the remedy against it is ample, and the statutory mode of proceeding is specifi-cally pointed out. Neither these sections, nor any other, so far as we are informed, con-fer any power over the national banks or their correspondence upon the postmaster general.

In assuming, therefore, to dictate to such banks, with whom they may and may not deal in the usual course of their business, is an unwarranted assumption, by that officer, of authority which the law does not confer upon him.

Your potitioners, therefore, respectfully ray that such sleps may be taken by you as will effectually prevent the interference with private correspondence intrusted to the mails by any and all officials in the service of the United States, except by due process of law; wherein the parties accused shall have an experiential to be heart.
